

Education Abroad Disciplinary Clearance

Participating in the UC Education Abroad Program (UCEAP) includes demonstrating an ability to abide by the UCEAP's standards, policies and procedures as outlined in the Guide to Study Abroad. The Education Abroad office requests conduct history information from UCR's Student Conduct and Academic Integrity Programs prior to approving a study abroad application.

Students who are on Probation (Disciplinary, Housing and/or University) are not allowed to participate in any kind of international program (e.g. study abroad, short term program, immersion, field study, etc.). An evaluation to determine a student's eligibility will take place for students who had previously been on Probation. Additionally, any information provided by UCR's Student Conduct and Academic Integrity Programs including, but not limited to, violations of the University of California's Standards of Conduct or other issues involving disruptive behavior may impact a student's eligibility.

Your signature provides consent for release of information from the point of receipt of this form by the Education Abroad office through the start date for your program. It is your responsibility to update our office immediately if you have new violations or changes in your disciplinary status after submitting this form.

I acknowledge that Education Abroad's study abroad application process includes a disciplinary record check through UCR's Student Conduct and Academic Integrity Programs office. I understand that any information obtained will remain confidential to the Education Abroad office, UC Education Abroad Program, and host institution in which I have applied to.

I give full consent to UCR's Student Conduct and Academic Integrity Programs to release all information in my student conduct file.

I do not give consent to UCR's Student Conduct and Academic Integrity Programs to release all information in my student conduct file.
