

« I got a lot out of an ecotourism course I took and feel that it's made a significant contribution to my understanding of environmental studies. No such course or similar course is available at my home campus. »

—Elizabeth Matson, UC Santa Cruz, Australia

eap.ucop.edu/go

Go Ahead. Stay Ahead. On UCEAP, you can experience exotic ecosystems and witness firsthand how other countries respond to environmental challenges. Gain a global awareness of the environment exploring new perspectives, policies, and approaches.

Did you know? 97% of UCEAP students who plan to take courses in their major receive major credit. You too can gain the international experience and cross-cultural competency to enrich your major and succeed in an interdependent world.

Programs for Environmental Studies & Sciences Majors

This is just a sampling of programs for your major. See the UCEAP website for all your options.

Australia

Australian National Univ.
La Trobe Univ. (Wildlife & Conservation Bio. Dept.)
Univ. of Queensland
Univ. of Wollongong

Barbados

Univ. of the West Indies (UWI)

Botswana

Univ. of Botswana

Brazil

Brazilian Studies, Salvador
Pontifical Catholic Univ. of Rio de Janeiro

Chile

Pontifical Catholic Univ. of Chile
Univ. of Chile

Costa Rica

Tropical Biology & Conservation,
Monteverde Institute

Denmark

Univ. of Copenhagen

England

Univ. of East Anglia

Germany

Technical Univ. Berlin

Hong Kong

Hong Kong Univ. of Science & Technology

New Zealand

Lincoln Univ.

Scotland

Univ. of Edinburgh

Singapore

Biodiversity, NUS
National Univ. of Singapore (NUS)

South Africa

Univ. of Cape Town

Spain

Autonomous Univ. of Barcelona

Sweden

Lund Univ.

« UWI offered a great fieldwork course. We traveled somewhere new on the island every week and took notes in the jungles and on the beaches! Environmental science majors need to understand the nature that surrounds us. Being somewhere new was a great experience that made me worldlier. Studying abroad is a must! »

—Stephanie Skephammer, UC Berkeley, Barbados

START YOUR JOURNEY TODAY